BUDGET COMMITTEE REPORTS CASH FLOW CONTINUES TO BE A PROBLEM

Elba City Council accepts old jail - pays bills totaling $92,361.50

The Elba City Council met last Thursday evening in a meeting post-poned from the previous Monday.

The only voting action by the council was approval of two previous meetings, approval to accept the old county init from the project.

The Elba City Council met last Brunson said it would be very help-ful if Elba could pledge $5,000 for 1995.

It is hard to believe that the presidential campaign is underway : again. It seems we just got through with one. Probably, part of my prob-lem is confusing presidential politics with the still ongoing Alabama state politics. While folks are meeting in New Hampshire to pick candidates for the round of electing a president, we still ain't got the counting right on our 1994 statewide races. Every week brings some new claim or request in the disputed race for Alabama Supreme Court Chief Justice. The federal court in Atlanta had asked the Alabama Supreme Court to explain the Alabama law dealing with absentee ballots. Well one side doesn't want our sitting judges to rule on that matter. Lawyers

Even if the citizens of Elba don't deserve an explanation of what the plans are, the police officers surely should be told something concrete. Judging from the inquiring phone calls and visits we received from members of the department following that council meeting, they are most definitely (and unnecessarily) in the dark.

We continue to get complaints from local homeowners of their increased water bills. They are right ... the utility department increased water rates several months ago ... it was reported on the front page of this newspaper the very next week. The increase didn't seem that much at the time, but we share the frustration over the apparent larger than one harassment one failure to ap- feet (6:33 a.m.); Routine activity. expected increase.

The national NAACP board of directors has elected a new chairperson. Mrs. Myrtic Evers-Williams won the vote Saturday by a slim single vote, but quickly got a solid vote of confidence from the entire board. That organization has been swamped with bad PR for several months and it still hasn't gone away. We feel this is a step in the right direction if they are to ever get through sweeping around their own front door. The woman elected carries full credentials, as it in the early 1960's when her first husband was killed in Mississippi during the early days of the civil rights movement. She spent the next 25 or 30 years in a successful effort to bring his killer to justice.

Senator Richard Shelby is touring Alabama with a number of town er stage 13.20 feet (7:10 a.m.); Bur-River stage- 12.60 feet (2:30 p.m.); meetings. Since earlier in the week, he has spent much of his time denying what was apparently a mistaken story out of his visit to the City of Auburn. The Associated Press reported from that city that he was in favor of cutting Social Security benefits. Now he is busy explaining that ain't what he said and AP has issued a correction. Apparently his statement that a balanced budget should include Social Security was thought to mean he supported cutting the program. Shelby said in two news releases received on our fax machine Tuesday that he has not supported and will not support any cuts in the Social Security program. Our retired friends can now retract all their ugly remarks and thoughts of shipping a junior US Senator to Outer Mongolia.

The lights flickered off Tuesday night as we were putting the finishing touches on this issue of The Elba Clipper. The short power outage instantly shut down all our computers and scared the stuffing out of the staff. However, the lights quickly came back on and stayed that way, plus all the stuff in the computers stayed there and remained useable. Better still, after a call to the police department to get some idea of how Elba General Hospital had the folturbance reported on Wayne St. widespread the problem was, we got a visit from two employees of the utility department ... at 9:30 p.m. All the downtown lights were back on but they were still searching for the cause of the problem. We appreciate this dedication to duty.

Beta Club Members Into Busy Springtime

by Crystal Whitt February is almost over and with March comes spring and a busy season of activities for many organizations at Zion Chapel. The ZC Beta Club is no exception and it's members are busy doing service projects and preparing for the state convention in March.

The Beta Club is a service organization which believes that a person leads by serving others. A Junior High Beta Club was chartered last fall. It was the first in Zion Chapel's history. For Val-entine's Day, the Senior High Beta Club sent each of the Junior High Beta members a Valentine from their Valentine fundraiser. The Valentine's were meant to encourage the young people to con-tinue their excellent academic work and to stay focused on the good things in the

A lot of times I am guilty as charged when it comes to being away from the house at night going to ballgames and various meetings. However last week I was innocent on all charges concerning a little note on a Valentine brought home by Melanic. The kids in her kindergarten class wrote a note on their Valentines that stated "Do you love me or do you not? You told me once but I forgot!" Nothing could be farther from the truth at the Mularz house, because I tuck the girls in every night, give them a hug and a kiss, and tell them how much I love them. They may not always know what time Dad will get home, but they have no doubts how much I

ELBA TIGERS "BUST LOOSE" TO ADVANCE TO REGIONALS

The Elba Tigers were accused of playing a dull offensive game during the regular season and didn't exactly burn up the nets, but last week in the Section 3 tourney the Tigers cranked up their offensive machine and scored 96 and 80 points in their two games to post two impressive wins and earned a ticket to this week's Southeast Regional. It wasn't the fact that the Tigers had to run and gun to keep up with their fast-paced opponents, it was the fact that Coach Danny Weeks had scouted the opponents and was convinced that his team's best shot at winning would be to press full-court on defense and to get the ball up and down the court and use the teams quickness on both offense and defense. If Coach Weeks had determined the best plan was to hold the ball he would have done it, but his scouting convinced him that the Tigers needed to crank things up, and that's what he did, and it was successful.

The fast-paced attack really got the fans, and players, excited as the Tigers could have easily scored 125 points in the win over Slocomb. Elba played everyone on its bench except the coaches in the lopsided win over the Red Tops, and still scored 96 points. The Tigers had a couple of big runs in the game, and brought the crowd to its feet with a pair of slamdunks. In the win over Houston County, Elba again played fast on offense and pressed on defense, and its was the Tigers' quickness and desire that led to the win. Alfred Purvis scored 17 points in the first half to spark the Tigers, while Cory Howe took over inside in the second half and scored 14 points in the second half as Elba held on for the win.

The 1994-95 Elba Tigers aren't as talented as many of the Elba teams of the past, but they play as hard as any team ever to wear the black-andgold and are as well coached as any team ever to take the court. Making it to the Regionals was quite an accomplishment for this team, and anything it does from here on is just icing on the cake, because there is nothing the team can do to take away from the many things they have proven over the course of the year!

PROGRAM REVEALS INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT TEAMS

The Class 3A, Section 3 basketball tournament was held in Elba last week, and while looking through the program, noticed a couple of interesting facts about the teams involved. Here are just a couple... *Out of the 121 players involved in the post-season tournament, only 29 were seniors. There were 18 seniors among the 71 boys playing in the tourney, and only 11 seniors among the 50 girls in the event. When you add the fact that Elba's girls' team competed at the junior high level, that figure goes up to 62 girls and only 11 seniors. Of the teams in the tournament, Elba's boys' team has six seniors, twice as many as any other team. *A lot of times at tournaments the fans get to see tall players put on a show with various dunks. If there were a lot of tall folks at last week's tournament, they must have been sitting in the bleachers. In the boys tourney there were 3 players 6'4", and only four that stood 6'3", while 11 boys stood 5'8" or less. On the girls side, there were six girls that were 5'10" and one that stood 6', while there were also 5 players 5'3" or shorter. Maybe they aren't growing'em as big as they used to!

DON'T PLAY IF YOU ARE SCARED OF BEING BLOWN OUT

If I had a magic carpet I would try to make it to at least ten or twenty games a night this time of the year, but since that's impossible, I just various tournaments across the state. Here are a few notes I jotted

*BLOW-OUTS ARE COMMON! When you bring the best and worst teams in the state together in a basketball tournament there are bound to be some blow-outs, and with the new expanded tournament format in place this year, the blow-outs are even worse than usual. Without leaving South Alabama, here are just a few - (Boys) McGill-Toolen 107 Murphy 46, Williamson 98 Alba 47, Eufaula 75 Opp 34, Valley 101 Shelby County 56, Livingston 100 Jemison 37, Abbeville 96 Geneva 31, Elba 96 Slocomb 57, J.F. Shields 124 Flomaton 40, Clayton 111 Cottonwood 61, (Girls) Jackson 56 Monroe County 16, Davidson 59 Shaw 26, Carver 94 Jeff Davis 33, Livingston 76 Dallas County 9 and Pike County 56 Geneva

COUNTY TEAMS DON'T ENJOY TRIP TO CAPITOL

The three teams from Coffee County didn't have a lot of fun on their trip to Montgomery last week as all three failed to qualify for this week's Regionals at Troy State. Brantley did fair better down at Red Level, but all in all it wasn't the best of weeks. Here's why... *BRANTLEY advanced to the Southwest Regional and did so without working up much of a sweat. The Bulldogs were clearly the class of the field down at Red Level and simply got in two decent scrimmages in preparation for this week's "real" tourney.

*NEW BROCKTON made it to the game that counted up in Montgomery, but found St. Jude a little too strong and fell one win short of making it to the next level. The Gamecocks have a very young team and you can bet they are already looking forward to next season. *ZION CHAPEL lost in the opening round to New Brockton and played well despite losing center Joey Herbert early in the game. The Rebels got a taste of winning this season and should be able to use it as a springboard for next year. *KINSTON fell to St. Jude in the opening round and the Bulldogs are probably glad the season is finally over. The season was marred by some early-season discipline problems and the Bulldogs just never jelled. The fans never gave up; however, and you know the Dogs will be back.

NOT EVERYONE CAN BE AN "ALL-STAR"

The Elba Youth Basketball League announced its All-Star teams last week, and as always, there were a number of youngsters that were disappointed when they weren't included on the team. When a league has almost eighty players and only twenty can make the All-Stars, there is obviously going to be someone left off. The coaches hate to pick All-Star teams as much as anyone, but it has to be done, and they try to pick the players that can best come together as a team and have a shot at winning at the highly-competitive district tournament that will include teams from Dothan, Enterprise, Ozark, Andalusia and other larger cities. If your son didn't make the team, just give him an extra hug, and assure him that you'll help him practice and he'll get better as you both have fun.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL LOSING PROSPECTIVE

Last week's announcement that Major League Baseball was cracking down on youth teams using the names of the Major League teams may have been the straw that broke the camel's back! Major League Properties announced last Thursday that if amateur teams wished to use the names of the various Major League teams the amateurs would have to pay a license fee of $6 per player. A lawyer for the organization stated that state and federal copyright and trademark laws included penalties for using the names without permission. He also said that it was an "incontestable patent" and that it made no difference if the letters were stitched-on, ironedon or simply written-on, because Major League Baseball owns the names of all teams when used in association with the sport of baseball. The patent wasn't enforced for years, but will now be actively enforced.

Kids grow up wanting to be pro baseball players and always choose a favorite team to follow. The kids write the name of the team on a shirt and play in the backyard, then as they grow up they often try to be placed on that same team with the name they like the best. Now that kids will have to pay $6 just to wear a uniform with a team name on it, maybe it's time that all the kids, and their parents, just turned their noses up at Major League Baseball. If it weren't for the fans there would be no baseball, anyway, and then maybe the ex-players could get a real job and work for a living instead of just getting rich off the fans while playing a game.

Area students on Dean's List at University of AL

A total of 2,524 students enrolled during the fall 1994 term at the University of Alabama made the Dean's List with academic records of 3.50 (4.0 scale) or above; or the President's List (all A's), Dr. James Taaffe, vice-president for academic affairs, announced.

The Dean's and President's lists recognize full time undergraduates. They do not apply to graduate students or undergraduate students who take less than a full course load. The following students, from the local area, were named to the President's List: Grant Gordon Coleman and Toby Vance Tyler, both of Elba; Matthew Douglas Rodgers of New Brockton; and Charlsi Leigh Layton
